Current Work

Translator at ACTIVE GAMING MEDIA
Japanese to English translation on world famous video games and IPs. Duties also include QA testing and debugging. I've trained and managed small teams of people, and wrote scripts and tools to automate and improve workflow.

Life in Japan

I have years of experience living abroad in Japan, working in various multicultural and multilingual environments.

Education / Certifications

Griffith University
Bachelor's Degree in Language and Linguistics

Harvard University
CS50x Introduction to Computer Science

CompTIA
A+ Certification (2019)

IT Support Experience

Volunteer Support and Training
People often come to me for help with computers and technology. I have offered support and training to others, side-by-side, over the phone, as well as using remote connections.

Projects

CS50 finance
A web app that allows users to log in and trade imaginary shares. The share prices are generated in real-time from Yahoo.com
